GALTEX Natural Stone Finishes

GALTEX which has taken India by storm is now in the Middle East. India is renowned for its abundance in natural stones. The prime features of buildings made - be it traditional or contemporary - has its prime focus on showcasing the raw, ethereal beauty of natural stones and finishes. The Middle East, with its sublime earthly appeals, boasts of the luring, rugged warmth of the desert which reflects in the people's penchant for unique finishes and textures to adorn their homes and buildings. Now, GALTEX is here to turn the fecundity of your ideas to reality.

Customisation is what we believe in. Besides our stunning range of natural finishes on offer, we welcome you to have us custom make any natural stone finish you may have in your mind or have seen somewhere. The raw material used are absolute natural stone powders giving the finishes its whole, original trait as that of the stone. The various shades, intricacies and ruggedness of the finish are captured in its true essence in GALTEX finishes.

We use various shades of real Granite stone powder to create the right mix of shades of your natural stone finishes. Natural finishes are made using the best Marble powders from India. Crushed rock is used to make the ebony dark Granite shades. Limestone finishes provide a stucco effect. Sandstone is a warm-toned stone abundantly found in India and perfectly matches the earthy, silica tones preferred in the Middle East. We also have various other natural finishes which are specially preferred regionally.
